Research Visibility – Open with Purpose: Strategies for making your research Open Access (OA)

Speaker: Tyson Mabunda, UJ IR Manager

Maximising the visibility and impact of research is becoming ever more important in Academia than before. One way to increase your citations is to publish in a prestigious and well-cited Open Access Journal or make your work publicly accessible. Making your research freely available not only allows it to be more widely distributed resulting in increased visibility and citations, but it also complies with Funding Institutions and Institutional Policies.
